

Sarrah CHRAIBI

Research themes

Public procurement of innovation
Collaborative innovation in procurement
Sustainable procurement
The role of procurement in the eco-design of products

Professional career of Sarrah Chraibi

Sarrah CHRAIBI graduated with a PhD in management sciences from Bretagne Loire University in 2017. She previously obtained a Master's degree in Logistics and Strategy at CRET-LOT in Aix-Marseille University. She worked as a researcher in Procurement at RFF then at SNCF Réseau within a CIFRE, then as Manager of the Finance, Administration and Projects Division and teacher-researcher at GIP Campus ESPRIT Industries and temporary teacher at the Catholic University of the West. She joined Le Cnam in 2021 as a researcher and a member of Lirsa. She currently works on research themes related to procurement of innovation and the role of procurement in sustainable development.

+ CV Sarrah CHRAIBI

+ Other information

Publications et travaux scientifiques

Données extraites du portail HAL

Coordonnées

sarrah.chraibi@lecnam.net

<https://lirsa-en.cnam.fr/sarrah-chraibi--1376670.kjsp?RH=1568816156356>