

Stephanie CHATELAIN-PONROY

University Professor

Research themes

management control
public management
cultural management university management

Professional career of Stéphanie Chatelain-Ponroy

Stéphanie Chatelain-Ponroy is a Professor at the CNAM.

She defended her doctoral thesis on management control in museums at the University of Paris-Val de Marne in 1996 (where she was a research assistant and then an ATER) and her habilitation to direct research on management control in non-profit professional bureaucracies in September 2008 at the University Paris-Dauphine. She was Secretary General of the Association Francophone de Comptabilité between 2011 and 2015 and scientific delegate to the Haut conseil de l'évaluation de la recherche et de l'enseignement supérieur (Hcéres), in charge of the SHS1 group between 2015 and 2022.

She currently directs the Abbé-Grégoire doctoral school and co-directs the LIRSA.

+ CV Stéphanie Chatelain-Ponroy

Publications et travaux scientifiques

Données extraites du portail HAL

Coordonnées

stephanie.chatelain-ponroy@lecnam.net

<https://lirsa-en.cnam.fr/stephanie-chatelain-ponroy--1373791.kjsp?RH=1568816156356>