

Vincent PACINI

Associate Professor

Research themes

- Relationship between foresight and organizational learning
- Links between anticipation and action
- Evolution of anticipation and foresight practices in the territories
- New tools of observation and anticipation to observe the dynamics of development of territorial dynamics

Professional career of Vincent Pacini

Vincent Pacini is a researcher - entrepreneur - consultant. With a multidisciplinary background, he has a PhD and DEA in economics, a postgraduate degree in human resources management, a B and C cycle in organizational foresight and strategy, a master's degree in geography, and a master's degree in training engineering. He is an associate professor at the Conservatoire National des Arts et Métiers (Paris). He is involved in several projects: GERPA (foresight towards action), SIX (development of training-action), HYCO (development of the mia application), The observatory of territorial impacts of the crisis.

+ CV Vincent Pacini

Publications et travaux scientifiques

Données extraites du portail HAL

Coordonnées

vincent.pacini@lecnam.net

<https://lirsa-en.cnam.fr/vincent-pacini--1376551.kjsp?RH=1568816156356>